Related Charges 2026

In addition to the approved tuition fees, levies will apply to accounts as and where applicable.

Camps and Excursion Levy

Extra-curricular activities significantly extend teaching and learning outside the classroom such as camps, outdoor education experiences, excursions and special performances.

There may be additional fees charged. These include: Years 9 and 10 Outdoor Education experiences (extension beyond the standard camp), other interstate and international excursions.

These will be not included in the fees/levies and are billed separately.

Information and Communications Technology (ICT) Levy

The ICT levy supports secure, reliable learning environments, provides access to educational and commercial software, and maintains infrastructure that meets students' learning needs across the curriculum. The School supplies and manages devices for students from Kindergarten to Year 6. Fahan School is transitioning to a managed device program for Years 7 to 12, with Years 7 and 10 being the first adopters in 2026. These students will receive a School-owned Windows laptop that is managed by the School. This is the first stage of a three-year rollout of a School-managed, one-to-one laptop program in the Senior School, with all students participating by 2028.

ICT helpdesk support is available for all students.
